DETAILED ACTIONDrawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the second cable means disposed above the pylon head and configured to raise and lower components of the wind power installation "within the pylon", the winch being mounted on a vehicle, the winch arranged at the base of the installation within the pylon and the opening in the pod being coupled to a hollow shaft in the pylon must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s) (claims 1, 4, 5 and 14). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Specifically, Applicant claims the winch is arranged at the base of the installation within the pylon of the installation. It is unclear how the singular winch can be outside, as in the parent claim, and inside the pylon. Clarification is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4, 6-15, 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Weitkamp (EP-1101934 A) in view of Bervang (7,207,777). Weitkamp discloses a wind power installation ("installation") 10 comprising a pylon 14 having a pod 18; a winch 60; a base 12; at least one deflection roller 64 and at least one rope passage 50 in the region of the pylon head for passing through a hauling cable from the winch. Weitkamp further discloses a second cable passage means (See passage for cable 62) disposed above the pylon head and configured to raise and lower components of the installation within the pylon. The Examiner notes that the winch is also located within the pylon and the pylon is a hollow shaft. Weitkamp does not disclose the winch being located outside the pylon.

Bervang teaches a winch being mounted outside the pylon on a transport vehicle. The Examiner also notes that Applicant states in the Background of the Invention that it is well known in the art to transport a winch to installation for raising and lowering components. Therefore, it is the position of the Examiner that it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the winch outside the pylon as taught by Bervang for the purpose of installing components of a wind power installation. In regards to method claims 6 and 7 the combination of Weitkamp and Bervang as disclosed above would be inherently capable of performing the method as claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 8-10 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nickelsen (EP 1101936 A2). Nickelsen discloses a wind power installation comprising: a pylon (not labeled); a base; a pod (referred to as the nacelle); a winch 31; a cable guide 35; a blade opening 33; and a cable 32 coupled to the winch wherein the winch may be located within the rear of the housing.
